DATE: June 29, 2023

The State Universities Civil Service System (University System) has revised the Information Technology Support Associate, Information Technology Technical Associate, and Information Technology Manager/Administrative Coordinator classifications.

The following Series:

- Applications Programmer Series,
- Communications Network Specialist Series,
- Communication Services Specialist Series,
- Electronic Technician Series,
- Local Area Network (LAN) Support Series,
- Microcomputer Support Specialist Series,
- Network Engineer Series,
- Scientific Electronics Technician Series,
- System Administrator Series,
- System Programmer Series, and
- Web Specialist Series

are being consolidated into the following custom classifications effective June 30, 2023:

- Information Technology Support Associate,
- Information Technology Technical Associate, and
- Information Technology Manager/Administrative Coordinator.

The Consolidation Notice provides a general guide for position designation regarding replacing the current classifications/structures.

Any new vacancy traditionally classified in the IT Management series (Information Technology Assistant Manager, Information Technology Manager, Information Technology Associate Director, or Information Technology Director classification) must be employed through the Information Technology Manager/Administrative Coordinator classification.
